WHAT AND WHERE WE ARE

Glendale, Tropic, Casa Verdugo—Facts of Interest to Strangers and Some Others

Named in the order of their proximity to Los Angeles, Tropic, Glendale and Casa Verdugo are practically one community, or at least nature designed that it should be so. Glendale came into being first (as far as the names are concerned) about twenty-five years ago, then upon the establishment of a depot on the line of the S. P. R. R. at that point, Tropic began to be. Casa Verdugo is the youngest of the trio and is about four years old, its birthday being coincident with the coming of the Pacific Electric road.

Thirty years ago this section was pretty nearly in a state of nature, the orange orchards of Thom and Ross at the base of the mountains on the north, the old "Sanchez" place, west of Casa Verdugo and the then newly planted orchard of H. J. Crow (now Lomita Park) comprised nearly all the improvements. About that time several of the old-timers along San Fernando Road, the Richardsons, Devines, Cooks and two or three others, came in. Most of the property on which now stand the places named above was at that time divided into four or five tracts, owned by as many individuals, but it all was included in the Rancho San Rafael, which extended practically from Garvanza to Burbank and from the Los Angeles river to the mountains. At one time this magnificent property had been the property of the Verdugo family, but at the time spoken of they had been reduced to holdings consisting of some 2000 acres in Verdugo Canyon and a few small tracts along the Verdugo road. The principal owners in addition to Thom and Ross, were the Dreyfus estate, Childs, Glassell, Hunter and one or two others. About 1883 two or three of these large tracts were subdivided and sold to the home builders who began to come in at that time. Most of these settled around the upper part of the valley, now Fourth and Glendale avenue, and eastward along Verdugo road. The first postoffice in this section was established at Verdugo, about where the store of Kober & Tarr is now located. Then a postoffice called "Mason" was established, the name afterwards being changed to Glendale. The boom which struck California in the early eighties and lasted several years, did not overlook Glendale, and for a year or two there was a rapid growth and town lots sold for high prices, as high as five hundred dollars, at least. During this period the Glendale Hotel (now Glendale Sanitarium) was built. Just previous to the erection of this structure the Terminal Railroad built its line to Verdugo Canyon; this system afterwards being bought out by the Salt Lake company. There was a service of four or five trains daily, which was well patronized until the completion of the electric railroad into Glendale about four years ago. With the coming of this road the growth of this section was renewed and since its completion the population has increased 200 per cent., and the growth continues right along without even temporary cessation. The postoffice has been established at Casa Verdugo about two years and that section has made great advancement during the past three years, the improvements being numerous and of a high class. Along the line of the Pacific Electric road the development has been remarkable all the way from Tropic to Casa Verdugo, a distance of about two and a half miles. In the Valley View Tract, just west of the corporate limits of Glendale, about 175 houses have been built up within the past two years. In the neighborhood of the West Glendale School house there have been great developments during the last twelve months and a fine large school building has just been completed to accommodate the patrons.

North of a line drawn westward to the San Fernando road in continuation of the southern boundary line of Glendale city, and west of the electric railroad line, nearly all the improvements have been made within the past four years. The city of Glendale was incorporated as a city of the sixth class, in February, 1906, and is approximately a mile and a quarter square, containing about 2500 inhabitants, nearly one-half of the total number of people that are living within the entire section herein spoken of. The limits of the corporation are pretty clearly defined by the condition of the streets which are in pleasing contrast to the roads outside, although the condition of these is not at present especially bad. The street work done in Glendale since its incorporation is sufficient excuse for its experiment as a municipality. Arrangements have just been completed for the construction of a railroad on the East side of Glendale to connect with the Eagle Rock branch of the Los Angeles Railway company the same to be completed within 90 days. This will doubtless be an important factor in the rapid development of the city.

TROPICO.

Tropico has been a popular resort for home builders for the past several years and continues to be so, while in addition to this it is becoming quite a center for manufactures. The Western Art Tile Works are located here, employing a large number of people. The Los Angeles Box factory is a large concern lately established here. The plant consists of five buildings and the output is very large, over two hundred helpers being employed during the busy season. The Tropico Manufacturing company is a prosperous concern as is also the Tropico Paint company more recently established. Tropico is on the line of one of the main highways to be constructed by the Highways Commission under the recent bond act—being on the old San Fernando road, the principal highway leading northward from Los Angeles.

CASA VERDUGO.

Here is located the quaint Spanish Restaurant, which has become famous among tourists as the one place in California where the visitor may become acquainted with genuine Spanish dishes served in an interesting "casa" of the olden time "before the Gringo Came."

The southern extremity of Glendale city is six miles in an air line from the court house in Los Angeles and Tropic is a mile less. The Pacific Electric service on this road is semi-hourly and is in every respect first class. Indeed, there are few electric roads in the country that can compete with this Glendale branch which connects with the other Huntington roads at Sixth and Main streets, Los Angeles. Ten ride tickets cost ten cents and commutation tickets on monthly and three months tickets are somewhat cheaper. Tropico is reached in twenty-five minutes and Glendale in thirty. The ride over this line is one of the most enjoyable of any to be found in Southern California and some of the nature pictures along the route are unexcelled.

Both Tropico and Glendale are well supplied with churches and schools and reference to another article in this issue will show how well the various fraternal and social organizations are represented. The Glendale Sanitarium is famous as a health-giving institution where intelligent care added to the health-giving qualities of the climate give it an enviable record of good accomplished.

OUR SCHOOLS.

The present enrollment in our school follows: Glendale Union High, one hundred and thirty, notwithstanding withdrawal of Burbank pupils who attended last year, when enrollment was one hundred and eight; Fourth Street Grammar School has an attendance of 326. In West Glendale there are 127.

In the four schools there are twenty-four teachers employed, with a possibility of more being needed. Compare this with conditions of nine years ago when all of Glendale, North and West and Glendale proper, contained a population of 250 souls. Very soon now we can point with reasonable pride to our four handsome school buildings to the visitor seeking a home, and it will have a favorable effect—for who would make him a home these days in a community not well schooled? Our faculty and curriculum are of the best, and the schools speak louder than words of the progress made in Glendale. So many pupils have enrolled in the West Glendale school in the past two weeks that now there are 160 enrolled and seven more will enter next week. Though the school bonds were defeated a new election will be called for at once for necessary furnishing of the new building and completion of grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Musso and family and Miss Edna Knudson, well known musicians of Los Angeles, were guests of Miss Jessie B. Doyle, corner Ninth and Glendale avenue, Thursday.

"UNION DEPOT."

The Performance Last Saturday Evening.

Crowded halls are not the rule in Glendale when our people turn out to concerts and amusements, generally, but it was a crowded hall that greeted the performance of "Union Depot" in the new Odd Fellows' hall last Saturday evening. Probably 350 persons were present, many of them being lined up against the walls. The High School orchestra furnished the instrumental music and did it well. The popular boy soloist, Vernon Bettin, warbled in his sweet tenor, the old favorite, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," and responded to an encore. Miss Lute K. Miller gave a dramatic recitation in excellent style and Viola Yorba and Ernest Martinez went through the graceful evolutions of a Spanish dance to the delight of the audience. "Union Depot" is not dramatic high art, but is a humorous melange in which appear upon the stage the types of character found in real life, which everybody has seen, but rarely in the exaggerated form that is licensed for stage purposes. The old country man and his wife, the boy who asked questions of his aunt who wanted to read, the newly-wedded pair, the widower with a quartet of children, the garrulous woman, the professor, the preacher, the newsboy, the depot master, the prima donna, the woman who lost her ticket, and a lot of other selections from the gallery of human nature, were the pictures presented to the audience in rapid succession, to speak their lines, act their parts and pass behind the scenes. The audience came to be amused and was not disappointed.

pointed. The make-ups were generally very good and the acting as a whole was excellent for amateurs. Miss Miller, the manager, who has staged the play in a great many places, stated that the parts had rarely been so well performed. In an aggregation of stars it is difficult to particularize as to various parts, but Sol Rehart, as the newsboy, and Miss Edith Booth as Mrs. Garrulous, both of whom were on the stage during the whole of the performance, deserve especial mention. The dog dance of Miss Emma Pulliam may also be mentioned as one of the features that won particular applause. The performance was a financial success and added a neat sum to the treasury of St. Mark's Guild.

The News is only one-fifty per year, twelve and a half cents per month. Take it.

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Nellie McPeak and Mr. Arthur Campbell were married in Los Angeles at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McPeak, of 230 West Eighteenth street. Dr. Hugh K. Walker of Immanuel church officiating.

Miss Janie McPeak, a sister of the bride, played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party approached the altar.

Miss Mary McPeak, another sister, was maid of honor, in a gown built of blue satin messaline with Irish lace garniture. She carried a bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses.

Tiny Kathleen Louise Campbell, niece of the bride and groom, acted as ring bearer and carried the ring in a huge white chrysanthemum. Mr. Daniel Campbell acted as best man.

The bride was beautifully attired in an Empire gown of white satin trimmed with lace. She carried a shower bouquet of snowy bride roses and maiden-hair fern. Her veil was worn with a wreath of "Ard Eeven" orange-blossoms. The going-away gown was a wine-colored broadcloth with hat to match. The little flower-girl was attired in soft white silk with black lace garniture.

The living-room was beautified with a combination of poinsettias and greenery; in the parlor and dining room were graceful chrysanthemums of yellow and white. Upon their return from a two weeks' wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will occupy their new bungalow home in North Glendale, where they will be at home after January 1st. Only relatives and a very few intimate friends were present.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The boys' basketball team played a game with the Compton team last Saturday. The result was the usual thing. Glendale won by a score of 35 to 22. The line-up for Glendale was Emery, forward; Sprinkle, forward; Taylor, center; Walton and Stine, guard. The next league game will be with Fernando at Glendale, Nov. 21.

The large expected Soph. hats have arrived, blue with red band. The orchestra has secured some new music and will begin practicing at once.

In order that all matters of school history may be preserved as far as possible, the trustees have decided to have the old corner stone, with its contents undisturbed, relaid in the north-west corner of the new building, and have "Relaid 1908" cut under the old date. "Erected 1902." The corner stone for the new building will be laid by the Grand Lodge of Masons with Masonic ceremonies on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 28. Rev. Hugh K. Walker, who gave the oration at the corner stone ceremonies of the old building, will be the orator of the day.

DEATH OF REV. C. W. CRALL.

Rev. Charles W. Crall of No. 224 Cedar street, died at his residence Wednesday afternoon, after a lingering illness. He was 58 years old and for several years had not been able to do active work. CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Something That Glendale Has in This Line—The Gardens of M. L. Anderson

Just off the Verdugo road on Sixth street, past giant eucalyptus and overhanging pepper trees, where one comes into close touch with nature in all her loveliness, is a flower and fruit ranch, by name Casa des Flores, owned by M. L. Anderson. It is no misnomer, as the entire ranch is literally given over to fruit and flowers of all varieties.

To the chrysanthemum, in its many shades and kinds, I wish to dedicate this article, as at this season of the year, it reigns supreme, the queen of flowers.

Imagine over an acre of choice blooms in white, golden and many other colors apparently in all directions, as they are not massed into just one acre, but are seen here and there in rows and rows, the gold and the white blending into one beautiful whole. Then the pink ones shading off into palest lavender, the bronzes and reds in the background, as a setting to the more delicate shades, is a picture well worth going miles to see.

On a sunshiny morning, with the mountains towering clear cut over all, one could almost imagine they were in some fairy realm, where sorrow or suffering could not intrude. It is bewildering to note the many beautiful varieties. Take, for instance, the white ones, the smallest measuring over four inches in diameter, the largest ten inches, and one can form some conception of the beauty of them, with their petals of "purest white, others with the faintest tinge of seashell pink on their outermost edges. The names of them are many and unique, a few as follows: Silver Wedding, R. G. Cary, Convention Hall, Queen, Mrs. Tranton, Mrs. Ills, and Mrs. J. C. Newelle, which is the whitest of them all. The Polar Queen is a late bloom, while another kind, a beautiful pearly white, shading off into mother-of-pearl, is called Mrs. Thompson, and blooms in December.

The Achilles, shading from a pink to cream and white, is another beauty.

What has been done in propagating flowers, especially the chrysanthemum, is shown in the Princess Alice de Monaco, a dainty white bloom, as "the sport" or freak, grown from it, is one-half white and the other half pink, which causes one to wonder what will be attempted next. In the pink shades comes the Xeno, Mrs. Coombs, Wm. Duckham, Helen Frick and many others; then the bronzes and reds, some with large golden disks, others like unto immense balls, are named the Black Hawks, Muriles, H. T. Wright and Edgar Saunders.

But of the golden colors, typical of our glorious country, with its almost perpetual sunshine and everything to make life worth the living, we must make special mention. Some of their names seem to mean more to us, such as the Golden Gate, Golden Wedding and Golden Age. The Chiltona, Col. D. Appleton and other varieties, which florists understand, to us who have only a limited knowledge of horticulture, just the beauty of the flowers appeal to our senses. The dainty little pompons used so much in decorating, come also in all the different colors.

From the common Ox-eye Daisy of the open, and the Corn Marigold, that little velvety weed so prolific in cornfields, these enormous blooms have been evolved. No wonder the chrysanthemum is immortalized in song and story, not only on this continent, but with our little yellow sisters of the Orient, as it figures in many of their drawings and decorations, and names.

Of the one hundred or more different varieties, all nodding their heads so gracefully as the light breezes kiss them in passing, it seems like some gala day where beauty is everywhere. When one stops to consider there are over 70,000 blooms in all, the intrinsic worth and the loveliness is almost beyond comprehension. At present thousands of splendid blooms are sent from here daily to the Los Angeles florists who have depended for several years past upon Mr. Anderson to furnish them the choicest specimens of this beautiful flower.

MRS. MINNIE A. BEAUFAIT.

A 12-year-old son of Mrs. Johnston, residing near Seventh and Adams streets, was struck in the eye by a stone thrown at him by another boy, on Wednesday last. Dr. Hunt dressed the wound, which is quite serious. Stone throwing has become too common among the boys of the neighborhood and should be suppressed.

HOW WE GROW

A Few Facts That Are Evidence of Something Doing

The story of actual progress in this town the past two years reads like an unauthorized fairy-tale as depicted in this issue. Yet facts were carefully collected, and had we a little more time, we could show proportionate increase in real estate dealings, shipments of foothill products, increase of visitors, etc. You can send what we have presented to your friends and soon perhaps we can finish authentically the alluring chapter of progress given you today to think about and be proud of. The class of citizens buying and building here are the most desirable for the making of a home city. Of them also, more later.

OUR FRATERNITIES AND SOCIETIES.

How many fraternities in Glendale? Well, there's the Masonic Order, I. O. O. F., Fraternal Brotherhood, Union Brotherhood, Modern Woodmen, Good Templars, O. E. S., Rebekahs, P. E. O., Knights of Pythias (new ones among us). Any more? If so, let us know, we don't want any of them to get away. Ten fraternal societies in a city of the sixth class only since February, 1905!

And women's clubs make a good showing. The Woman's Auxiliary of the Glendale Country Club, the lately incorporated Tuesday Afternoon Club, the pioneer literary organization in San Fernando Valley; the energetic Glendale Study Club; busy Priscillas, and several more, the whole well sprinkled with social clubs, many of them organized for the winter. And church societies—well, the exigencies of time and space called for attention when the whole office force began to enumerate the splendid church societies among us and their good works, and soon a special article will be devoted to them as nothing else speaks such volumes for our moral uplift. These societies are organizations in the St. Mark's Episcopal, First Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Methodist, New Catholic, and Adventist churches, and we are proud of them.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC SHIPMENTS.

Pacific Electric shipments this month into Glendale have been exceptionally heavy. There were 25 carloads of pressed brick for the Union High School, also two cars of tiling and two cars of cement for the same building.

Eight carloads of brick came in for the Cole & Dick business block, and during the month lumber shipments for the Valley Lumber Company have averaged ten cars.

Of coal there were three carloads, and local freight was one-third heavier than ever before. The ticket business is increasing at a very noticeable rate, more tickets having been sold during October than ever before in the history of Glendale.

GLENDALÉ CITRUS SHIPMENTS.

In Glendale the past citrus season has compared favorably with neighboring shipping points upon a proportionate basis. While there has been no especially notable instances of big returns, the output has been exceedingly satisfactory. From data on hand reading to date, it appears that net returns to our growers probably aggregate $135,000, some claim even more.

The fruit has been shipped over the Salt Lake road by the Sparr Fruit Co., Pinkham and McKevitt, the California Citrus Union and the Semi-Tropic Exchange.

The weather conditions have been pretty fair and orchards have received great care as a rule, many of the owners taking in them (for a very obvious reason) a greater and ever-growing interest. One of our largest shippers sends out 85 carloads of oranges and grapefruit, and 25 of lemons. Eight carloads of oranges and grapefruit comes from a North Glendale ranch, where eight acres have brought $7000 for a season's output.

One of our most successful growers, a woman, sends out about 18 carloads of hand picked, hand washed fruit, each box personally inspected, as are the cars in which they are shipped. These shipments usually go directly to Omaha and Wichita and are distributed there.

The largest Glendale shipments have been sent to the Middle West, though sometimes they reach the Atlantic Coast. In August Pinkham & McKevitt shipped five carloads of fine Kelsey plums. Altogether 300 carloads have gone from this locality with the present outlook for the coming season very bright, as conditions are growing more and more favorable for fruit-growing. For an obvious reason, we do not state the shipments sent out from each company. Data carefully gathered from these concerns are cheerfully given to show volume of shipments and aggregate returns. While they do not care especially to have published many of the most interesting statements they are able to make, they are always glad to help make up a proper and fair estimate.

Since the second of January the extensive building has called for more carloads of lumber than one unacquainted with conditions would realize. From January 2 to November 1 the Glendale Lumber Company have received and sent out 155 carloads, just three million feet. The Valley Lumber Company, C. A. Boyd, have used 187 carloads and 3,387,250 feet. The Tropico Lumber Company have used, since the beginning of the year, 75 carloads, approximately 150,000 feet.

In addition there has been $8000 private work done.

What is actually finished this year, with what was done last year, makes about eighteen miles of beautifully oiled roads, cement curbing and broad sidewalks in our city at a cost of $23,500.

No other city in Southern California has (proportionately) improved so many miles of streets nor issued so many building permits, for in the two years just passed there have been granted two hundred and seventy-one! We should have a jubilee, buy a flagpole and raise thereon the flag that stands best in all the world for progress!

BUILDING.

Glendale issued for October nine permits as against six for Alhambra, three for Hollywood, eight for Long Beach, four for Ocean Park, four for Riverside, six for San Bernardino, Redlands nine.

Those for Glendale were Building and Investment Company, six-room cottage, $2500; same, six-room cottage, $2000; E. G. Vesper, Lomita Park, seven-room residence, $2600; C. O. Pulliam, seven-room house, $2000; Sarah E. Toll, seven-room house, $3000; Mrs. M. A. Venhoff, four-room cottage, $1000; F. H. Huerman, six-room cottage, $1850; brick business block, $6000, two stores, seven rooms.

EUGENE C. FRANK.

Painter and Traveler, to Have a Home and Studio in Glendale.

Eugene C. Frank, globe-trotter and artist of international fame, has long had it in his mind to sometime settle in Southern California, near Los Angeles, and has purchased five and one-third acres of richly improved land, well planted with magnificent orange trees, on Third street, below Canon Crest. It is a fitting spot for such a man to build such a studio as he will have there. We are proud to have him and extend a warm welcome to the artist who, after seeing practically all the world, comes to us to build his home. Temporarily, with his family, he is located on First street on property he recently purchased and formerly known as the Oaks Place.

In the impromptu studio there are canvases that have been exhibited variously, for Mr. Frank has, in the past forty years, exhibited in the Exposition Meverson, Paris. There in 1900 he was awarded a gold medal for "The Old Settlers"; diplomas and awards were won at the National Academy of the Society of American Artists; Metropolitan Museum, New York; Chicago Exposition, International Exposition, Kingston, Jamaica. At different times the artist has had exhibits in Denver, San Diego, Los Angeles and many cities. At present he has a studio in the Blanchard building among well-known artists there.

Forceful in composition yet delicately handled are canvases now in his studio which, many of them, send a straight appeal to forest lover. His cooler canvases depict nature as he understood it in Pennsylvania, in Munich, or in the depths of the Black Forest.

Later we shall have something to say about "Sunset on the Beach," "The Glam Diggers," "The Old Mill," "The Bay of Naples," "Claudian Aqueduct," "Night Fishing," and the lovely "Edge of the Beechwoods."

Important commissions, which have delayed the artist's final home-building until now, carried him far over the world. Hawaii, Japan, China have contributed to his collection. The East and West Indies, Egypt, England, many of the United States and, perhaps, best and most of all, Germany.

Out-of-the-way places in Venice he reproduced with a magic brush, rural life in Spain and France, and the busy life on the Atlantic boardwalk. Several of his pictures are owned by residents of Los Angeles, expressing western skies and plains.

Perhaps, of those now on exhibit, none reveal the man himself more forcefully than the buffaloes on the Western plain, standing knee-deep in the grass and in a pool strong with reflections of the sunset sky, or the "Old Aristocrat," a huge old tree outlined strongly against a Bavarian sky.

Formerly, the family home was in Wilkesbarre, Penn., until they heard, and answered, the call of the West.

THE WALTON POULTRY RANCH.

Business Will Hum in a Month.

When 1800 hens furnish fifty eggs a day the prevailing price of eggs is explained. With orders on hand for 25,000 incubator eggs for the coming season and nothing doing, one might be excused for being blue, but the rosier specimen of a prosperous poultry ranchman is C. M. Walton, who declares with emphasis that he is very well satisfied with conditions. The hens are very kindly all moulting at once, and by the same rule, they ought to get done all at once—then Brother Walton will attend the strenuous games at the Union High and elsewhere, by proxy. The busiest place in Glendale is Walton's ranch in the spring, and one of the causes is the now famous Walton method of feeding a soft mash and of letting the hens help themselves as they will. He claims, stated times of feeding causes gluttony and a windfall of troubles after that. Sweet, fresh water is another hen-crank notion carried out on the ranch—and the eggs from there make pretty good eating.

Mr. Walton uses more chicken-wire than any other hen man in Southern California. If you have not seen his big, clean yards on a sweet March day, with sentry of peach trees all about, and clean white hens scratching busily and singing the song dearest to every poultry-man's heart, if you have not seen this—why then, you ought to, and the loss is yours if you don't some day.

The Presbyterian Brotherhood meets every first and third Tuesday, usually at the "Manse" home of the pastor, Rev. S. L. Ward. At the last meeting plans were completed for the "Jubilee Concert." The meetings are conducted along educational lines and there are good addresses, followed by a very pleasant social hour. It is a church organization and all men of the congregation are expected to attend. Visitors are always welcome.

THE BOYS' CLUB.

The Presbyterian Boys' Club is progressing in an interesting manner. The boys meet every first and third Saturday evening at the homes of members. Usually there is a likable program prepared by the young folk. Sometimes there is a musicale, always there are wholesome, light refreshments for the social hour. At present there are eighteen members, and plans are growing for the increase of membership expected during the winter. Guests are made to feel their welcome and the club intends to flourish.

The pastor of the Presbyterian church will preach Sabbath morning on "Two Kinds of Trials," and in the evening on "Come and See." The musical program for the song service and the service following will be of a more elaborate nature than usual and will well repay all who attend. Arrangements are under way for a Thanksgiving service to be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 23d, at the Baptist church. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Humphrey of the M. E. church. Fine music is in course of preparation. It is hoped that the people of Glendale will crowd the house as they did the Presbyterian church last year.

THANKSGIVING PREPARATIONS.

Mrs. C. H. Newton of Casa Ramona, November 24th, act as hostess and chairman of the Thanksgiving observance of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, assisted by Mrs. Edgar Leavitt, Mrs. May Church, Mrs. A. L. Bryant, and Mrs. Ella Witham.

Until a few days since Mrs. Newton was not aware of the fact that she would be hostess on that day, as, owing to a resignation, she very kindly offered to take charge of that day. The committee appointed rallied enthusiastically to her support, and to her kindness and willing energy the club ladies and their guests will be indebted for what promises to be one of the nicest of club affairs for the current year. There will be Thanksgiving in truth, for handsome new quarters, a large and ever-increasing membership, and energetic interest in important, history-making committee work, all expressed in seasonable music, readings and vlands.

GRAND RALLY.

An after election rally will be held by all prohibitionists of Glendale, on next Monday evening, November 16th, at 7:30. Let everybody interested come and hear what we have gained and what we have learned by the results of the election, and other important topics. A few good speakers will give short talks. There will be plenty of seats and good lights at the old city hall, Fourth street, west of Glendale avenue.

G. W. JOHNSON, Sec'y.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT IN PROSPECT.

Third. That a cement sidewalk five (5) feet in width be constructed along both sides of said Mary street from the South line of Third street to the North line of Fourth street and from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street (excepting such portions of said streets along which a cement sidewalk five (5) feet in width has already been constructed to the official line and grade), in accordance with the plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer of the City of Glendale and specifications for the construction of cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 1.

Section 2. That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer, that the total cost of said improvements will be greater than fifty cents per front foot along each side of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 27, 1893, as amended by an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, amending said last named Act, which amending Act became a law March 2, 1899, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvements; said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years and an even proportion of the principal sum of such bonds shall be payable annually by coupon, on the second day of January of each year after their date, until the whole are paid and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven (7) per cent. per annum on all sums unpaid; payable semi-annually by coupon, on the second day of January and July of each year.

Section 3. Section 4. The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the Chamber door of the Board of Trustees, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work and referring to the Specifications posted and on file.

The driver of the bus between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue, notes the falling off in patronage since the cool weather began. The natural explanation is that many people now walk to and fro who did not care for the exercise during the warm weather. 'This bus service, it should be remembered, is a great advantage to our city and should receive all the patronage that our people can possibly contribute. It would be a matter of serious consequence if it should be discontinued, and we hope to see its patronage increased.

Prof. Lee Chauvin, who has been in Glendale a few months, after traveling around a great deal during the past several years, has definitely decided that Glendale is the place in which he wishes to remain during the rest of his life and has begun the erection of a house on his property, corner of Glendale and Orange Grove avenues, which will cost from $1500 to $2000. Mr. Chauvin is a professor of the arts of physical culture and oratory, and an artist of considerable note in those lines.

Marie Corelli is quoted as saying: "If one (a man) touches my hand in ordinary courtesy, my instincts are offended and revolted and the sense of outrage remains with me for days." Poor thing—and she is only 46!

THAT SPEED ORDINANCE.

Another thing that the city trustees are talking about while resting, is the matter of doing something to enforce the speed ordinance. Every day several reckless chauffeurs send their autos whizzing through our streets like a shot out of a gun. Nobody has been hit yet, but it isn't fair to have to put so much responsibility upon Providence when we have a town marshal hired to protect us. We are a small community, but we do not enjoy being run over by automobiles, devil cycles and things, any more than do our more mature neighbors of higher development. If we could be assured that the only damage done would be to some of those nice little pet dogs that belong to our neighbors, we would not be disconsolate, but there is a sad lack of discretionary distinction on the part of the reckless drivers alluded to, and they are just as likely to run over the best of us as the worst of the dog family. We do not reflect upon the marshal, however. He is human and therefore has his limitations, one of which is about four miles an hour, while the space annihilation is good for sixty. The fire horse is a pretty good sprinter, but even before he could be enthused sufficiently to take after the malefactors, they would have reached security in Los Angeles or Santa Monica. It is a really serious matter and our city guardians are justified in pondering over it a good while. Meanwhile the citizen who stays in the house is reasonably safe.

PROSPERITY WEEK.

We have endeavored this week to present to our patrons a number particularly devoted to our home interests. It is very incomplete, for the time devoted to its preparation has necessarily been limited. But we send it forth in the confident hope that it will accomplish results. Prosperity week means a week especially devoted to the object of assisting one another to bring an additional measure of prosperity to our own particular neighborhood. The practical application of this is best made by a resolve put into action, to patronize for one week at least, the home institutions of every kind that are in anyway deserving of patronage. And this is made practicable to some extent by this issue of the NEWS. We are distributing free of charge for the benefit of our advertisers (and ourselves and the community, incidentally) five hundred copies of this paper outside of our subscription patrons. Our business concerns are generally represented in our advertising columns, and by reference thereto, the public at large will be enabled to see what opportunities there are for patronizing home institutions. No doubt many of our readers will be surprised to find that it is not necessary to go away from home to supply their ordinary daily wants. And having made this discovery, will hereafter do what they can to make their home business concerns prosperous. We have endeavored to put into this number considerable information which will not be new to old settlers, but will be of interest to newcomers. In brief, our object is to make our section better known, particularly to our own people and incidentally to the rest of the world, and to show especially the possibilities existing for mutual helpfulness. The future has undoubtedly great things in store for this section. Let us get together, work for and deserve whatever good thing there is received for us, in the spirit of the somewhat heathenish but appropriate saying, that "the gods help those who help themselves," but which would still be fitter for our purpose if it said, "the gods help those who help one another."

WHAT WE HAVE

Lines of Business Represented Here—Suggestions for Practical Application for Prosperity Week

This is prosperity week for Glendale, Tropic and vicinity, as well as elsewhere. Now, dearly beloved home builder and housekeepers, it is upon you that we depend to make this an actuality rather than a phrase. We have here various business concerns that are able to supply the most of the every-day wants of the community. The builder will find here lumber yards well supplied with all necessary building materials, hardware stores that can furnish anything from a needle to a threshing machine, if you will give them a chance to do it. Blacksmith shops where ready workmen will convert the native metal into the finished product, fitted to your needs, shoe your horse properly, or mend your wagon. Painters who can do anything in that line from a landscape to a henhouse. A metal worker who can turn out work equal to the best and mend anything except your ways. Fuel and feed stores where supplies for your stock can be procured in infinite variety and coal or wood to suit the season. Dry goods and notion stores, milliners and tailors, a watchmaker and stationer. But hold, don't forget the furniture man. He has a well-stocked store and if he hasn't what you want he will get it. The same of the implement store. Then there are the banks. Two of them, one National and one State—nothing the matter with either. Deposits not secured by any Wild West theory, but by the responsibility of reliable directors and stockholders. There are the general stores, seven in Glendale, three in Tropic; they keep everything from codfish to confectionery and will fill special orders for ill-gotten if you want them to. There are the drug stores, where you can get soda water and ice cream, cold poison or hot plasters. Meat stores with all sorts of things in that line from sausage to sweetbreads. The bakeries can fill your order for pastry, baked beans and the sundries that go between. We have doctors, lawyers, undertakers; everything that goes to make life worth living—and then there is the newspaper—and this is it! Dearly Beloved—just for this week anyhow, look around you and see if just for once anyhow, you cannot patronize home industries, home products, home institutions, home stores—in brief, spend your money right here! This will make prosperity. Look at the advertisements we present to you in this issue. You will be surprised to find that there are so many concerns doing business here. They are doing well, but they ought to do better. You can make these home interests prosper and indirectly share in that prosperity. Los Angeles is all right, but your money will do you and all of us more good if it stays right here. Boost!

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

City Forester Harper of Los Angeles Talks on Forestry.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club gave up its time last Tuesday afternoon to the forestry committee of which Mrs. D. W. Hunt is chairman, and listened to the Rev. Harper, city forester of Los Angeles, talk upon that subject. A good audience greeted the speaker and listened to him with interest. Mr. Harper, in addition to his practical ideas upon his favorite theme, brings to bear upon it also an enthusiastic love for his subject and waxes eloquent in its discussion. He began by speaking of the refining and uplifting influence of trees upon individuals and nations. To the lover of trees they are things of life and it is little short of sacrilege to maim and abuse them. Getting down from poetry to facts, he gave advice as to what should be done to make Glendale a "City beautiful." There should be at least one wide avenue extending through the city; Central avenue would be well adapted to this on account of its being free from car lines. But wherever this avenue is, that might be selected, it must be at least 150 feet wide, preferably 200 feet. Fifty feet in the center should be reserved as a park, in which should be fountains, shrubs and flowers. Thirty feet on either side is sufficient for a driveway, having twenty feet for sidewalks and trees. Plant on each side trees that are wide-spreading in their nature, the pepper, oriental plane, rubber tree, etc. Do not plant too close, but from 30 to 50 feet apart. Observe uniformity in planting trees for street ornamentation, the trees on one street should be of one kind. On the front of an eighty-foot lot in Los Angeles he found five trees planted where they should have been but two. The camphor tree is highly recommended, as is also the Carob (St. Johns Bread) and the Black Acacia, of the latter 10,000 have been planted in Los Angeles during the past year. This tree should be topped when four years old; it has creamy blossoms, not so showy as some other kinds, but is very generally satisfactory. The Catalina cherry and the magnolia were also commended among the evergreens. The California Laurel or Bay Tree should be given more attention. None of them stand drouth so well as the Carob. Among the deciduous trees, the California (broad leaved), maple is commended, Eastern maples do not do well here. The Oriental Plane is more symmetrical than the California. Plane tree (Sycamore). The Texas Umbrella tree is good, as is also the Bottle tree, the roots of the latter going very deep.

Do not plant Marguerites, roses or poppies on the parkways. Among shrubs, the Lauristinas is one of the best. Proper pruning and care is essential in getting the best results. It should be practicable to have a city ordinance controlling the planting, trimming and removal of trees. They can be planted by a society, but the city should care for them. Mr. Harper wound up with an eloquent peroration on the redwood tree with "3000 years of life" and declared in closing that "the man who does not love a tree should be born again." A vote of thanks was given Mr. Harper. Reverends Ward and Moody and Mr. Sherer spoke briefly and the president of the club, Mrs. E. W. Pack, gave expression to the desire and intention of the club members to work for the city beautiful along the lines laid down by Mr. Harper. The club has received its charter, which was exhibited and greeted with cordial applause.

MEETING OF THE TROPICO IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

There was a well attended meeting of the Tropic Improvement Association held at Logan Hall last Wednesday evening, the chairman, Dr. Garmon, presiding. The association had not met for several months, but reassembled in full force for an informal discussion upon vital local topics. Midway of the program a recess was declared and the ladies of the organization passed around punch and doughnuts, which were discussed with enthusiasm. Reports were received from various committees, particularly from the light and road committees. Mrs. Harvey reported having received subscriptions from the people sufficient to enable them to secure at least one good street light and to keep it going. Mr. R. W. Pridham, supervisor-elect, was present by invitation and addressed the meeting at some length, making some valuable suggestions as to how the people could assist a supervisor to do those things which the county authorities may properly do for a community. Mr. Pridham stated that it was his intention to put up to the people of a community the responsibility of selecting their own road master and said that soon after January first he proposed to suggest some plan by which the matter might be determined. He stated, however, that there are three qualifications which the appointee must possess: He must be competent, he must be a resident of the district, and he must be a Republican. He made plain his desire to be advised by the people at any time in reference to matters concerning them and his wish to encourage the formation of just such organizations as this which could accomplish much good.

Mr. Pridham's remarks were received with applause.

Mr. F. C. Richardson for the fire committee reported what had been accomplished for fire protection. Tropic now has a chemical engine, 200 feet of 2-inch hose and a hose cart, all of which is paid for, with some money still remaining in the treasury and more promised. The total amount promised up to date for this object is about $450. About $350 is paid in. He announced a meeting of the committee to be held next Monday evening, to which everyone interested is invited. The opening of Brand boulevard through to the river was discussed, Mr. E. W. Richardson stating that a right of way would be given through his property as soon as the boulevard shall be opened through on the north. Messrs. Chandler, Lynch, Burch, Richardson, Rev. Henry and others participated in the discussion. At the next meeting of the Improvement Association, held Wednesday evening, November 25, at Logan's hall, the opening and improving of Brand boulevard from Glendale city limits to the river will be more thoroughly discussed when the different committees will report. The annual election of officers of the association will be held at the November meeting.

This coat of oil shall then be thoroughly cultivated and incorporated into the four inches of loose surface soil. After a lapse of not less than twenty-four hours a second application of oil, consisting of three-fourths (3/4) of one gallon per square yard of surface, shall be applied. Second. That a cement curb be constructed along each side of the roadway of said Orange street from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street and from the South line of Fifth street to the North line of Sixth street in accordance with the Specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 2, except that the top of the street face of all curbs shall be placed ten (10) feet from the property line instead of the distance from the property line provided for in said Specifications Number 2.

Third.
